The Cartoon Bird

Biking against wind near Kiwanis Island

and a bird actually sticks in flight above. It gives up and reverses,

like a bird in a cartoon.

Now, the wind behind, it still cannot budge! Concludes my science ego, “Trapped in a narrow whirlwind, a column of equi-directional air!”

Sudden plummeting to explode Sykes creek, emerging with a fish!

We all need to position, an art
of course.
